

Bean Queen

And then came a rumble and a hell of a blast
Stood her right up as she gave a freed gasp
Water spouted up like an atomic cloud
Porcelain rang god damn it was loud
Then the smell hit me and I turned a little green
Something about this was definitely not clean
So I headed outside to have me a smoke
Rumbling from inside and a new fear awoke
I knew these beans well she'd fart for five hours
I headed for my car she had much to much power
