

Capturing Time

Capturing Time as it flows by Smoking reefer in tune with the second
What's thought and done in a minute
Would take too long to talk about
An hour more like a day
Savor each second clock ticking
What wonders abound in this small space
External internal the choice is ours
The sacrament of peace from the 50's and 60's
Now a high priced crime what the hell went wrong
Still time must be captured
By those who care
as time will be done
By those who are captured and in either case
The clock ticks very slow
