

Valley Where Flowers Break Stone
By Terrence Michael Wall

Two lonely travelers
Through a life yet unlived
To a place made up in the mind
The song yet unwritten
We'll dance to the beat
Two hearts together can find
You've got my soul
I'm here with your heart
The place where we meet unknown
The chance of together
The search must continue
For the valley where flowers break stone
I'm here all alone
With you on my mind
This is my love song to you
Two lonely travelers
Waiting for the start
Of a love so rare and true
Follow the way
From your star to mine
Me to you from the one that I own
In some other time
We'll meet and we'll know
In the valley where flowers break stone
In the valley where flowers break stone
Two hearts are never alone
So wild and free loving you loving me
In the valley where flowers break stone
